A black and white line drawing of a woman in a long, flowing dress with a sash. She is carrying a bucket in her right hand and holding a small object, possibly a glass or a piece of fruit, in her left hand. Her hair is styled in an updo with loose waves. The drawing is simple and elegant, typical of early 20th-century book illustrations.

"Yankee Robinson," a delightful farce which has been a familiar figure on Janesville streets for years, was taken to the Soldiers Home at Milwaukee to-day. Krueger's meat market, and of late, has been hardly able to walk on account of paralysis.

The Concordia Society will give one of their old time dances on the evening of October 20th, at their hall, to which the public is invited.

The hall has been recently decorated and is complete in all its appointments. Smith's orchestra will furnish the music.

The "Kryers" the greatest dancing society in the world will appear at the opera house this evening. These performers were imported from Europe especially for McNish, Ramza & Arno, at a salary of five hundred dollars per week. They have a standing offer of ten thousand dollars open to anyone who can produce their equals.

Between two and three hundred people assembled in the old rak building on South River street on Saturday evening to hear Alex. Richardson, Wm. Smith and E. J. Hyzer. The crowd was an uneasy one, many leaving before the speaking was well concluded, and there was but very little enthusiasm exhibited.

The beautiful base ball tableau clog representing the national sport, arranged by Frank E. McNish and performed by Diamond, Keegan, Leasby, Gilder, Boston, Donnelly, Abe and Dolph Kryer and Frank McNish, will be given at the opera house this evening. It will introduce the celebrated dancer, Matt Diamond, in figures of his own conception.

Three theatrical combinations went to pieces in Milwaukee last night and one of these was Jacques Krueger's "His Royal Highness" company which has been playing at the Academy. The others were Horace Lewis and the "Monte Cristo" company, booked at the Standard, and Ella Caldwell's "Water Lily" combination, which will be at the People's theatre.

It was decided this morning that many of the desks furnished for the second ward school will not be accepted. In workmanship they are far below the contract requirements, being rough and hastily finished. All that are defective will be marked and left for the company to replace. This will put off the opening of school for some time. It is probable that the company will be held liable for damages because of the delay.

The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Hanlon, who died at the home of her brother, Mr. James Hanlon, town of Rock on Saturday morning, was held from St. Patrick's church at one o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. Father McGinnis conducted the services. Deceased was 60 years of age. Her husband's death occurred some years ago. Her remains were laid to rest in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

NEW PASTORS INSTALLED.
The Rev. G. W. Trever Enters The Pulpit of Court Street M. E. Church.

German Lutherans Greet the Rev. Max Albrecht—Other Services of the Day.

The Rev. G. W. Trever was installed as pastor of Court Street M. E. church yesterday. His introductory sermon was on "The Mission of the Pulpit."

In the evening Mr. Trever preached the text, "All things are possible." He showed the possibility of passing many advantages that were allowed to go unimproved. There were two forms of ownership, and in the better sense, man really possessed only what he used for the glorification of God. The discourse abounded in apt illustrations, and was well received.

Mr. Trever impressed his hearers as being a young man of ability and power. He comes to this city from Beloit, where he held the pulpit of the First M. E. church during the past year, having a very successful ministry.

A successor to Mr. Schuler. Fully seven hundred people crowded inside the doors of the German Lutheran church yesterday morning. They came to welcome their new pastor, the Rev. Max Albrecht. A symbol of their welcome was given in the flowers and oak leaves with which the church was hung.

The services of the day were conducted by the Rev. E. Baer, of Clinton, George Wildermuth of Edgerton, and Oscar Hansen, of Hanover. Quite a number from the churches at Clinton, Edgerton, Hanover, Center and Emerald Grove were present.

The installation sermon was by the Rev. Mr. Baer. Mr. Baer, who was for several years a class-mate of Mr. Albrecht, dwelt especially upon the duties of pastor to people and of people to pastor. The words of installation were spoken at the close of the sermon.

In the evening, services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hansen. Mr. Albrecht will address his Janesville charge for the first time next Sunday.

He is comparatively a young man and brings with him both earnestness and perseverance. He has been in the ministry five years, having graduated from the Concordia college, at Fort Wayne and from the St. Louis Theological seminary. The five years of his ministry have been spent at Lebanon, where, from the smallest foundation, a strong and well-established church has been built up.

Mr. Albrecht is tall and of striking figure. In the pose of his head he greatly resembles the Rev. C. E. Wilcox, formerly of Court Street church. In manner he is genial and sympathetic, and bids fair to rival in popularity his predecessor, the Rev. Mr. Schuler.

WELCOMING A FORMER PASTOR. The Rev. W. W. Sanderson's many friends filled the Presbyterian church yesterday both morning and evening. Many were present from other churches and the welcome given the former Janesville pastor was full of warmth. Mr. Sanderson's morning sermon was from the text: "That the requirements of the law might be fulfilled in us." Christ's coming was pointed out as having been necessary because of man's disobedience. The law said Love the Lord, and men had failed to do this. The law said Love your neighbor as yourself, and men had failed miserably in this. Not even the good setting forth of the law on Mount Horeb had made it stand, and Christ had come to bear on His shoulders the sins of the world. An eloquent plea was made for the rebuilding of christian character.

The evening sermon bore on the subject "God's Glory," and also contained much food for thought.

OTHER CHURCH NOTES. The subject of the Rev. Mr. Dean's sermon at Christ church last evening was "The Face of Man." He said in substance, that this was no more nor less than the penalty of one of God's inviolable laws—namely, as he called them—that in the very nature of things man was given one great liberty, that of choosing between good and evil, and whatever he chose he must abide by the natural consequences. God did with man what no does with all things he has made, and what man does with every invention and production—tried it. He did not have to rely on the story of the Garden of Eden to prove this, because man is making such a choice, right among us every day. The sermon was illustrated in an apt and impressive manner, and listened to throughout with close attention.

The Congregational pulpit was occupied both morning and evening by the Rev. George M. Boynton D. D. of Boston. Dr. Boynton was warmly greeted, the church being well filled both morning and evening. At the morning service an account was given of the Congregational Sunday School Society's work in planting and aiding Sunday schools.

The Rev. T. G. Owen, of Arcadia, occupied the pulpit of All Souls church yesterday, in place of the Rev. Mr. Waite.

The Rev. Mr. Evans was to have been installed as pastor of the First M. E. church yesterday, but was unable to reach the city. His pulpit was occupied by Presiding Elder R. W. Bosworth.

"I had rather be a bitten and cry man than growl all night and scold all day with menials, when one little bottle of Salvation Oil would make me gentle and well. Puss, wouldn't you?"

ELGIN FULTON. English Wicket. Losses. Kloten. Mucken. Of and a Small. Summary.

Word reached the city this morning that Mr. Elgin Fulton, residing about seven miles north of the city in the town of Fulton, lost eleven large stacks of oats and a small grain of last evening. The fire occurred about six o'clock and was seen by many people in the city who changed to cross one of the bridges between six and seven o'clock, the fire appearing to be just back of Mt. Olivet cemetery. It is said the fire was caused by some little boys playing in the granary. There was an insurance on the stacks in the town of Harmony company but just how much is not stated, or the amount of loss.

THE LABOR QUESTION.
Its Relation to Manufacturers Concerned—A Note for Mr. Hyzer to Crack.

I attended the democratic rally at the rock Saturday evening and was very much amused at the line of discussion which made it plain to every wage-worker that they were under the foot of monopolist and were not receiving their share of the profits of business; therefore, the democratic party had come to their rescue, and would release them of the terrible load of taxes that they were carrying, and raise their wages.

While Mr. Hyzer was analyzing the statement made in the Gazette of Friday in regard to the percentage of labor that entered into the cost of manufactured goods, showing that instead of from 5 to 10 per cent—as stated by the Gazette—it was from 12 1/2 to 37 1/2 per cent; I wanted to ask him one question. I asked Mr. Richardson what the cost of a wagon wheel was as it lay there in the building in its rough state just as it came from the factory? He said about $3.45. I wanted to ask Mr. Hyzer what it would cost to buy the raw material that was in that wheel, was it $2.29 allowing 25 per cent. for labor or was it 97 cents, allowing 75 per cent. for labor? Now what had entered into the cost of that wheel from the time it was in the tree but labor? He would stand in the tree but labor? He would say great profits to the manufacturer, yet the capital which was invested in the manufacture on which the profit was taken, was largely paid to labor.

Again, if that wagon wheel is worth $3.45, Mr. Richardson what will it be worth after Mr. Hyzer has paid for the labor expended on it before it reaches the finished carriage. The same line of reasoning can be applied to every line of manufactured goods turned out in Janesville by the Janesville Machine Co. at the shoe shops, the cotton mills, and every industry in the city.

Again, Mr. Hyzer made the statement that the average cost of labor that entered into the cost of manufactured goods was 25 per cent, yet after the Mills bill has passed, then the manufacturers would have a protection of 10 per cent which would more than pay the whole cost of labor; therefore, the wage-workers would have all the benefit of cheap goods, cheap produce and no reduction of wages. What nonsense to talk to plain people who read and think for themselves. Suppressing the democratic plan was adopted and the manufacturers should feel it necessary to reduce wages, and the wage worker should go to the office with Mr. Hyzer's statements to prove that the reduction was not warranted, what would be the reception? It would be as a most other ass's. Gentlemen, we propose to run our own business. What then, strike with loss of time, a bad feeling between employer and employee and three times out of five a failure. No, I say we will let well enough alone, and look for progress in the line of wage-protection in the future by a system of protection to American industry and American laborers as it was in the past.

MARTIN DEWEY MISSING. Nothing seen of him by his family since Friday.

Relatives of Martin Dewey of the second ward, were much exercised over Mr. Dewey's mysterious disappearance. Friday morning, Mr. Dewey, who is by trade a carpenter, came to the home of his son Frank, on North Bluff street, seeming much depressed. He spoke about being unable to find work, and as he left, remarked:

"I don't know but what the world would be better off if I was out of it."

Since Friday morning nothing has been seen of him by any of his family. Saturday and yesterday a vigorous search was made, but no clue to his whereabouts was found. He was learned, however, that just before leaving home on Friday, he had taken his certificate of discharge from the Army from a writing desk and put it in his pocket. It is thought that he might have enrolled himself at one of the Soldiers Homes, an inquiry will be made at Milwaukee and at Columbus, Ohio.

Mr. Frank Dewey, son of the missing man, describes his father as follows: Sixty-seven years of age; dressed in a suit of dark clothes; about five feet five inches in height and about five feet five inches in weight; hair, thin and grey.

Coughs, hoarseness, asthma or any irritation of the throat or bronchial tubes will be relieved by Dr. J. C. Smith's Cough Syrup. It has cured thousands. Recommend it to your friend and neighbor.

FOR SALE IN SCANDIA. "Shore on Law" is the play which W. J. Scanlan will employ to display the numerous gifts of which he is the possessor. An exchange makes the following comparison between Scanlan and Joe Emmett:

"Joe Emmett sang and danced and smiled in his way into the hearts of the American public. Scanlan is doing the same. Native grace of manner and gentleness, a sympathetic voice that bubbles and sparkles with music, a personal magnetism that is irresistible, handsome, frank and cheerful features breaking away into a smile, with the soul perpetually threatening to tumble into a torrent of good-natured laughter, over the gleaming rows of white teeth, a blue eye forever lit with the quiet, winning coyness of a kindly friend—all characterize the charms of our new friend Shore-on-law."

One of the peculiar features of the performance is the fact that the costumes used were worn in the Grattan parliament of 1790. Mr. Scanlan is the author of his most popular songs, which he sings with a charm that no imitator has. "Peek-a-Boo" and "My Nellie's Blue Eyes" would have made him famous as a song writer, independently of his talents as a comedian.

A WOMAN WHO IS WEAK, NERVOUS and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel at all like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest.

DEATHS HEAVY HAND.
It Rest Upon Two of Janesville's Early Settlers.

Peacefully as the sun sinks to rest—early this morning, and entered into his heavenly rest. Blessed with a strong constitution, he had lived beyond the usual limit of life, being less than three months from his ninetieth birthday.

He leaves four children, Josiah T. Wright of this city, Mrs. R. T. Josiah, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Edward Huger of this city, and Henry T. Wright of Washington.

Mr. Wright was born in Genoa, Mass., January 21, 1799. In 1826 went to Syracuse, N. Y., where he resided until coming to this city May 24th, 1854. Of his life among us, it would seem, since he was more eloquent than words. He has been a tower of strength on the side of all that is good and true, a sympathizing loving father and friend. During the early days of the Anti-Slavery movement was one of the friends of the slave, and assisted nearly all that found their way to Syracuse on their journey to Canada.

He was a co-temporary of Gerrit Smith, Beriah Green and other men of those exciting days. He has outlived all his associates, many of whom have long since finished their course; and now three generations come and go, and he has gone to his reward.

"Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his." Mark the perfect man and behold the upright for the end of that man is peace. Funeral services will be held from the family residence Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock.

Z. OUTL. The remains of the late Z. G. Guld arrived in the city yesterday morning from St. Louis, where he died on Saturday morning of Bright's disease, aged 78 years. Deceased formerly resided in Janesville, and was at one time a member of the Harris Manufacturing Co., now Janesville Machine Co., being one of the founders of that establishment under the name of Harris, Guld, Angell & Tyler. He was a pattern maker by trade, and spent many years in Janesville in the employ of the several foundries and machine shops. A few years ago he removed to St. Louis. On the arrival of his remains they were taken to the home of his son, Mr. Wm. Guld, 163 North Main street, from whence the funeral was held at 10:30 o'clock this morning. There was a large attendance of former associates and the services were conducted by the Rev. S. P. Wilder, of the Congregational church, at the conclusion of which the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment, the pall bearers being Messrs. James Harris, R. J. Richardson, S. B. Gleason, R. R. Angell, S. O. Cobb and John Edwards. Besides his wife he leaves two sons, William of this city, and Joseph who resides in Dakota.

MRS. DANIEL LOVEJOY. Mrs. E. Lovejoy, wife of Daniel Lovejoy of this city, died at Johnston this morning. She had been in feeble health for some time and her death was not wholly unexpected. No arrangements for the funeral have been made, as word is yet to be received from Mrs. Lovejoy's son in Plankinton, Dakota. The remains were brought from Johnston this afternoon, and will be placed in the Oak Hill vault.

THE CONVENTION. Wisconsin Physicians Will Assemble To-morrow.

Mention of the week's musical attractions was made in most of the city churches yesterday. Special stress was laid upon the additional effects.

The association is certainly worthy of the most liberal patronage. It has made it possible to give the grand compositions of the masters as they never could be given except by these voluntary gatherings. Large companies of singers are brought together to study from the life of Christ and to render it to large audiences. By so doing they become a small factor for good, for music of nobility makes each hearer better the more it heard.

The first session of the convention will begin to-morrow at half past nine. To-morrow and Wednesday there will be three sessions a day—at 9:30, 2:30 and 7:30. Tuesday and Friday there will be two sessions, the morning and the afternoon, the evening sessions giving place to concerts.

Tuesday evening there will be an address of welcome by Mayor Winans, and a response on the part of the society by President Colby.

The executive committee from this city is as follows: Col. N. Smith, W. S. Jeffries, Dr. M. A. Newman, C. E. Church, Wm. E. Mason, J. W. S. John, Mrs. A. O. Wilson, Mrs. C. E. Conrad, Mrs. Christine Hawley, Mrs. S. B. Lewis, W. S. Jeffries is chairman of the committee of entertainment and has with him on the committee Misses F. Edwards, Nellie Jones, Lillie Golden, Bertha Seelye, Cora R. Climens, Bell Rolston, Charlotte Prichard, Minnie Nowlin, Mary Patterson, Anna Prichard, Zella Harris, Gertrude Cobb, M. Lewis, Minnie Collins, Estie Pond, Ida Pond, Lizzie Warren, and Messieurs Dr. O. L. Clark, E. M. Hyzer, W. H. Barr, J. O. Cook, H. G. Arnold, Frank Lewis, W. T. Sherer, D. W. Watt, S. S. Lovejoy, Mary Stever, J. H. Jones, H. G. Carter, H. A. Doty.

As far as possible those who attend the convention will be entertained at private houses.

Liberated from their Fetters. By the helpful, genial action of that most beneficent of apostles, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the bowels go on through the hardest that paralyzed and weak-of-nation, and resume their normal freedom of action. The action of the Bitters, unlike that of average purgatives, involves no griping or denuding. If it did, it would be like a man, he rather than a woman, it is not a purgative, it is a systematic and a regulated by it. Material complaints, rheumatism, indigestion, nervousness and kidney troubles are completely relieved by it. Sleep and appetite are invariably promoted by it.

MILWAUKEE CLOTHING CO.
Patterns that are Worth Studying.

Judging by the spectacular change in the weather, we think it judicious to remind you of our immense line of underwear, consisting of French Cordes, Heavy Halbruggens, Medicated Flannels, and other articles too numerous to mention, manufactured by the best mills in the world. These goods were all brought direct from the mill by us, and we will give you the benefit in price, that only first hand buyers can give. The goods are on our counters for your inspection, and we invite you to call and examine, whether you contemplate buying or not. Our maxim is: "Do unto others as you would have done unto you"; and we practice what we advertise. Give us a call, and we will appreciate in return by giving you the prices.

Our Clothing Department needs no comment, as we have no rivals in Tailor-made Clothing, we are no bluffers; but pretend to say that we have the cleanest, freshest and cheapest stock of men's wear in Rock County.

TO-DAY'S PRICES FOR CASH.
